YELLOW

Animal Ref Code: R342

About them:

Baby yellow is a bit more on the cautious side of the world around then but is also very curious and wants to know everything that is going on.

Happy to be with you and just hang out he will never be far away and will take your cosy cuddle for as long as you are willing to give them.

As these babies start to get older they are really coming into their own personality. We are so excited to see them flourish in their own forever homes and see what personalitlies continue to flourish.

From day one they have been handled and surrounded in a very busy household so it takes a lot to spook these little ones. They are so fun to be around and watch.

Ready to take on the world and explore.
