GREEN

Animal Ref Code: R338

About them:

Sometimes we think baby Green forgets he is in fact a rabbit and not a parrot. He is a very confident and outgoing boy who is always on top of a box or on top of your shoulder when you pick him up. Will always greet you at the pen for a pat and of course a snack

As these babies start to get older they are really coming into their own personality. We are so excited to see them flourish in their own forever homes and see what personalities continue to flourish.

From day one they have been handled and surrounded in a very busy household so it takes a lot to spook these little ones.

They are so fun to be around and watch. Ready to take on the world and explore.

Not toilet trained yet but this will come with time once they are old enough to be desexed.
